Will Set Rate During April

The actual tax rate for 1963 won't be set until some time in April, according to Assessor William Russell.

By that time, all local property values will be known, he explained, and accurate estimates of income to the town can be totaled.

The state's "cherry sheet" - named for its color - has been received, and shows a gross income to the town from all sources of $439,394.09. Expenses - charges for state and county agencies - total $147,456.12.

Both receipts and expenditures are somewhat higher than a year ago. The town will receive about $57,000 more from the state; about $5,000 is required to meet obligations.

Looking first at required expenditures:

County tax - $107,344, up about $5,000; TB hospital, $27,005, increased about $2,000; state recreation areas, $10,349, down

Try To Settle Road Differences

Differences of opinion over entering Waverly rd., North Andover, with an access road from the area behind Raytheon's Shawheen plant, may be ironed out next Monday evening.

The North Andover Board has voiced strong objections to the access onto its street - pointing out that Andover's traffic problem then becomes North Andover's.

The local Selectmen are trying to arrange the meeting in hopes that the towns can agree on construction of the road.

The state has agreed to build it, then turn the completed street over to the town.

Many local problems concerned with the proposed street were thoroughly aired Monday night, when residents of the Fleming ave. area voiced their opinions to the Selectmen.

Major objection to the road centers around potential use of Fleming ave. as a through-way to Haverhill st. The new road would tie onto Fleming ave. on one end, and Waverly rd. on the other. Town officials explained that

The Selectmen have voted to name a special committee to study the town manager charter and its operation, and recommend "constructive criticisms and improvements" to the Board.

Selectman Philip K. Allen suggested the action, followed by a vigorous second from Paul W. Cronin, who commented that he was the only Selectman to vote for the proposal at town meeting.

A motion to create such a committee was presented at the end of the annual meeting, but was defeated.

The members agreed that they will bring lists of possible appointees to such a committee, at the next regular meeting.

Commenting on the proposal, Selectman Cronin noted that constant evaluation and improvement are needed, in any system of government.

Selectman B. Allen Rowland was not present at the session.

Applications Sought For Jobs On Boards, Town Committees

Anyone want a town job?

There may be lots of work, and perhaps no pay, but the opportunity for service is available.

The Selectmen have officially requested that any resident, who may be interested in serving in the numerous appointed positions, make this feeling known to the town manager immediately.

Appointments normally are made by April 1 - thus the Board hopes to act within a short time.

Selectman Paul W. Cronin suggested opening the positions for application, commenting that new ideas and new faces are sometimes good for the community. Town Manager Thomas E. Duff agreed, but suggested that all interested residents let him know quickly of their wish to serve. He commented further that the state Conflict of Interest law will possibly have its effect on the roster of appointed officials, making it even more desirable to have a list of service-minded citizens.

Departments To Feel Slash Of Budget Cut

RETAIN STATE-WIDE GYM CHAMPIONSHIP

Andover High's gymnasts swept to another state-wide victory last Saturday night, retaining the state championship for the second year. They piled up an impressive total of 101.7 points over nearest competitor, Winchester, with 89.15.

Two weeks ago, Andover's superior gymnasts took the state individual meet title.

The win Saturday extended a winning streak of 27 meets, starting with the last four in 1961, all of '62 and '63.

May Call Bond To Finish Road

A $400 certified check held by the town, to cover some work on Rolling Ridge rd., may be "called".

The Selectmen have voted to authorize Planning Board action in that direction, following a plea by Atty. James Eaton III, a Planning Board member and counsel for the residents of the street.

Mr. Eaton told the Selectmen about the maze of contradictions and confusion of details that has led to the street breaking up, prior to acceptance, while some minor work remains undone on the bounds and shoulders.

The Planning Board had released all but $400 of the developer's bond, he explained, because the street was in acceptable condition under terms of the 1956-'58 restrictions. But stone bounds were not in place, and a little work remained on the road shoulders.

Street acceptance would have been denied, he recalled, because of the work yet to be done.

But in all the time since then, the road has begun to break up - while acceptance is blocked because of the undone work.

By the time the bounds are in, and shoulder work completed, Atty.

Nearly every town department will wince at the cut, before Town Manager Thomas E. Duff is able to slice $42,000 out of their budgets.

He's promised to make it as easy as possible - but warns that the town must not expect some promised improvements.

The money represents the two percent budgetary reduction voted at town meeting.

Mr. Duff was given discretionary authority to reduce departmental budgets wherever he sees fit, to accomplish the over-all objective.

Although final decisions have not yet been reached, the town manager currently believes that most departments will find their spending power cut back.

Salaries - including the 3.75 percent raises - will not be touched, however.

Commenting that continuing town services can't be reduced very much, Mr. Duff believes the cut-back will have to come out of planned improvements that were included in the budgets. These had been submitted and were later approved by the manager, the Selectmen and the Finance Com-

Through the Foster Parents Plan Zafiria was adopted last fall and now each month she and her "mothers" look forward to hearing from one another.

DAR Meeting Viewed Film

The film, "New England Portrait" was the feature of the entertainment at the meeting of the Priscilla Abbot Chapter DAR, held this month at the home of Mrs. Wilson Knipe Jr., of Stratford rd.

It was a beautifully colored film, showing the New England countryside, the beaches and the mountains, and the hardy men who tilled the soil and chopped trees for logs and firewood. The character of the people was in harmony with the scene, the weatherbeaten fishermen, the stern-featured men of the woods and hills where the farms were wrested from a stony soil, but also the kindness of the faces which showed they were fun-loving as well as hard-working.

The cities and industries which have grown up during the last 300 years typified the thirst for knowledge that these New England pioneers possessed, and while some of the older industries have gone from the towns and cities, others more in tune with the scientific age have been developed.

The meeting was opened at 2:30 after dessert and coffee had been served by the hostesses, Mrs. Knipe, Mrs. J. Keith Jones and Mrs. Earl Thornton. Mrs. Edward Thompson, the vice regent, presided and introduced the good citizen girl of the year, Miss Catherine Wojtkun, and her mother, who were guests of the chapter. Miss Wojtkun was also

Bowling Tourney At Recreation Saturday

The event is Andover's annual Candlepin Singles Open for men, which once again will be a 10-string showdown across 10 lanes. Starting time for the tournament is listed as 2 p.m.

A year ago, Cayer, a smooth delivering lefthander, carried off the winner's trophy and top prize money with a 1253 effort. That was 25 pins better than runner-up Johnny Craig's 1228.

Third place in the 1962 event went to Jack Ready who rolled 1182.

Coates Involved
In CD Planning

Those persons who are concerned about Civil Defense preparations will be interested in learning that one of the key men in the Commonwealth lives in Andover.

He is Theodore P. Coates of Woburn st. Since last September he has been with the Resources Management Office for the director of emergency planning for the state.

Mr. Coates' particular interest is in organizing all of the industry and commerce of the state so that they will be able to recover with a minimum of confusion in case of any disaster, be it natural, such as flood, earthquake, hurricane, or other "act of God", or national, or man-caused, such as an act of war, be it limited, conventional or nuclear.

Presently, Mr. Coates is engaged in organizing, among the 14 segments of our economy, task groups to plan the right procedures so that under any type of disaster, normal life would be resumed to the greatest extent possible.

His office works directly with Washington.

Mr. Coates has expressed concern that more people are not seriously concerned with Civil Defense and has volunteered to discuss the subject further with anyone who cares to call upon him.

Precinct Lines May Change

The town's six precincts may soon be a matter of historical interest only.

The first formal step in redrawing precinct lines was taken Monday night, when the Selectmen asked that Town Clerk Irving O. Piper come in soon with preliminary plans to accomplish the objective.

The town may wind up with eight or nine precincts, according to informal comments of the Selectmen. Secretary of State Kevin White brought the matter to a head, writing to the Selectmen to pinpoint the problem. He lauded the operation of the town clerk's office, but asked cooperation from the Selectmen in creating new precincts that are more evenly distributed. Present precincts range from a high of 2,000 to under 1,000 in strength.

Money to do the job - which might possibly become effective in a year - was included in the town budget this year. But it was stricken, according to the town manager, when the Finance Committee promised to approve a transfer of funds if the task had to be done. Thus, he reported, there should be no financial problem, if the Selectmen want to have the new lines drawn.

RESIDENTS FEAR AREA GROWTH

Fleming ave. itself will be rebuilt under the program, with a new paved surface of 24 feet, sidewalks, curbing and drainage. They hope to control use of the street, however, so that there is little use made of it by industrial employees.

There was no hiding the fact that the Champy industrial area, zoned several years ago by the town, will also benefit from the proposed road.

While it is being built at the request of Raytheon, to serve a 400-car parking area in the industrial zone, the remainder of the site will be opened up to development.

Neighbors were strongly opposed to this, and recalled that a specific amendment was voted to prevent this use of town residential streets, when town meeting acted on the zoning. However, this amendment according to the town manager, was inadvertently dropped off the by-laws in a more recent year - thus there is currently no restriction.

Traffic, children's safety, the plight of homeowners who are blocked off from their own driveways - all were discussed at length.

The Selectmen seemed determined to protect the residents as much as possible, noting that the new access road will be town-owned, and thus subject to restrictions. Parking bans will also help to keep cars from blocking either the new road or Fleming ave.

There also was agreement that, if North Andover persists in its objections, the state probably will not go forward with the project. Thus this became the first hurdle, over which the Selectmen hope to leap next Monday evening.

Camp Fire Girls In Bank Tour

The Tawanka Camp Fire Girls and their leader, Mrs. Horace Hayman, recently toured a local bank.

A member of the bank staff gave the group a complete tour, explaining all the different points of interest. The tour was concluded with a question and answer period. Those attending were Cynthia Verda, Beth Hayman, Frances Cunningham, Amanda Hood, Patricia Valentine and Mrs. Horace Hayman.

TO ITS MEMBERS AND TO THE PUBLIC

In 1962, the CO-OP enjoyed the greatest public acceptance in its quarter century of service to the community. More members, more sales, greater assets, larger cash refunds - all point to a growth of impressive proportions. Why?

When the customers own a business, they make sure that it meets their needs. Moreover, at the CO-OP, what's left after meeting all expenses and prudent reserve requirements belongs to its customer-owners as CASH.

At our recent annual meeting, some 400 shareholders exercised their democratic control by electing (one vote per member) officers and directors to represent them in the CO-OP's affairs during the coming year.

More and more, the CO-OP is becoming an integral part of the life of the area it serves.

Hearty Welcome Planned For Missionaries To Peru

On furlough from Iquitos in the northeastern corner of Peru's jungle, the Rev. and Mrs. Walter Craymer and their five children will bring a personal report of their missionary work to the Craymer Circle and all members and friends of the Andover Baptist Church, Friday evening, March 22.

Arriving in Andover from Philadelphia Friday, the Craymer family will be welcomed at the Andover Baptist Church with a covered dish supper at 6:30. An evening program will begin at 7:45.

Those planning to attend the supper are asked to bring a dish for the number of their family or guests. Dessert and beverage will be provided by the Craymer Circle, named for the family, of the Baptist Church.

The five Craymer children will have an active part in the evening program and members of the Craymer Circle are urging parents to bring the entire family.

Mr. and Mrs. Craymer will illustrate their talk with pictures of their years of missionary service in South America.

Mrs. Craymer, the former Ellen Wood, was a resident of Lawrence before she attended Wheaton College, where she met her husband.

The couple left for their first term of service in Iquitos, Peru, under the Association of Baptists for World Evangelism in January, 1948. With the exception of four years in Chili and furlough visits to the States, Iquitos has been home for the Craymers ever since. They will return to Peru in early August, 1963.

As the name implies, the Craymer Circle of the Andover Baptist Church has a special interest in the missionaries. The Circle is proud of their share in the financial support that enabled the Rev. and Mrs. Craymer to establish regular radio broadcasts of Bible classes for children in Iquitos and, via short wave, throughout Peru, Argentina, Uruguay, Paraguay, Colombia and Brazil. The Circle also supported the Craymers' work for a children's camp, the first in the history of evangelical work in Peru's jungle.

TOOK PART IN PANEL DISCUSSION

Mrs. Helen E. Burnham, President of the Chestnut Court Associates, and two Andover Housing Authority representatives, David MacDonald Jr., chairman and Thomas Wallace, were invited recently to participate in a panel discussion on Low Rent Housing for Senior Citizens.

The subject is controversial in Reading and The League of Women Voters there thought it might be enlightening to hear what Andover citizens had to say. The discussion was held March 12 at the Joshua Eaton School, Reading and Mrs. H. Kelsea Moore of that town served as moderator.

Group Praises Conway Officials

Several local men and members of the Essex Chapter of the DeMolay are specially happy with officials in North Conway, N. H.

The group arrived there last Saturday on a skiing weekend, only to find that the reservations they had made were not recorded anywhere - and the individual with whom a deposit had been made had left town.

Adults from Andover accompanying the boys were Robert Chase, Robert Burnham and David Roberts.

They found that Judge Charles Sturdevant and Chamber of Commerce secretary Mrs. Philip Randall were most helpful.

The Chamber insisted that the group be reimbursed for the missing deposit, and additionally rooms for the weekend were secured.

Mr. Chase commented this week that everyone involved has the kindest feelings towards the Chamber of Commerce and Judge Sturdevant, who were most helpful and generous.

Debate At School Was Well Received

In an effort to find new and varied methods for presenting material which will excite the student and enrich the Social Studies program, two eighth grade teachers of American History, Gerald Silverman and Robert Miner planned a debate before their combined classes.

The issue under discussion by these classes was the attempted secession of the Southern States (1860-1861). Prior to the debate, the students were encouraged to investigate the topic and become informed of the pros and cons of the issue. The two classes were grouped together to witness "two teachers locking horns in combat" - one teacher claiming the South was well within its rights when it attempted to secede and the other, disputing the claim.

The interest of the youngsters was extremely high during the 15-minute debate. For the next 15 minutes, the students were divided into small groups with one teacher assigned to each group. William E. Hart, principal and John Kennedy, teacher in training, were assigned during this phase of the project, to assist in small group discussion. The students were encouraged to comment, react, question and challenge the positions taken in the debate. They were assisted in formulating conclusions supporting their own positions and in preparing questions to be used in the final portion of the program.

The large group was re-assembled for the final 10 minutes and the students were permitted to direct their questions to the debating teachers, each being allowed to comment on the answer of his colleague.

At the close of the question period, the directors of the program reviewed the positions which each had taken, emphasizing both the strengths and weaknesses of each side of the issue. Finally, they reviewed the purpose of the approach, namely, to emphasize the point that there are two sides to every issue, to stimulate interest in the material to be studied, and to train students in thinking a problem through.

The results were highly successful. Interest was created, opposing viewpoints were examined, large and small group instruction was utilized and a healthy atmosphere was created for additional learning experience to take place.

ANYONE WANT TOWN JOB?

zens. The jobs that will be open, as of the first of April, include. Three assessors, town counsel, two on Board of Public Welfare, one, Board of Health; town physician, Civil Defense director and assistant directors; one on Planning Board, trustee of Memorial Hall Library, trustee of Spring Grove Cemetery, one member of Planning Board of Appeals, dog officer, one full member of Board of Appeals plus two associate members.

Six members of Land Acquisition Committee, three on the New Materials Committee, two members of Conservation Commission, four on the Industrial and Development Commission, a member of the Central Merrimack Valley Planning District, three members of the Transportation Committee, and members of the Patriotic Holiday Committee, which normally includes the representatives of all the veterans' organizations.

The Board, and the town manager, did not in any way indicate that incumbents will be, or will not be, retained.

Most of the positions are filled by the town manager, with the approval of the Selectmen.

MAY CALL BOARD TO FIX ROAD

Eaton predicted that the street itself will fail to meet standards of the town - thus completing the circle of events that has kept the residents disturbed for the past several years.

He asked the Selectmen to authorize use of the money now on deposit with the treasurer, to place the bounds properly, to remove a boulder on the shoulders, and to repair the road. Then, he said, acceptance can be requested, with some assurance of success, at the next annual town meeting.

There was considerable discussion about the responsibility of the town to the residents. Chairman James D. Wilson wondered where the town's indebtedness lies, in reference to the problem.

Atty. Eaton's argument centered around the fact that residents of the street did not know of the problem; now, he reminded the Board, they are taxpayers and are seeking some help to get out of the situation.

Gary Caldwell Marked Birthday

Gary Caldwell of Rocky Hill rd. celebrated his fifth birthday Saturday, March 16, with a party whose theme and decorations all pertained to firemen.

Neil Gerstenberger, Nancie Minghella, Billy O'Connell, Martha Reid, Robyn Nowell, Jeffrey Lewis and Laurie Judge all enthusiastically helped Gary to celebrate.

RUFUS BROWN ON DEAN'S LIST

A total of 819 students at the University of Maine were named to the Dean's List for grades averaging B or better during the spring semester.

Included was Rufus E. Brown of Andover.

Wilson Named Board Head

Selectman James D. Wilson of Lowell st. has been elected chairman of the Board.

His selection came at an executive session prior to the regular meeting Monday night, and was announced by Selectman Philip K. Allen, who had served as acting chairman at town meeting.

Following the session, Mr. Wilson explained that the executive discussion actually concerned two legal problems facing the town. However, he continued, the Board lacked a chairman, and the election was thus held at that time. He said there was no special reason for conducting the election behind closed doors, other than the need to get this piece of business finished in order to proceed with the discussion at hand.

Will See Movie On "Telstar"

Visits also will be paid to Lucerne and Mt. Pilatus, where she will ride by cogwheel railway to the summit. The highlight of the trip will be the two days spent in Paris, the "City of Light". She will return to Boston Saturday, March 30.

Miss Galloway lives with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Galloway, 11 Stevens cir.

Boys On Television With Police Pups

Pupils of South School were much interested to see two of their fellow students featured on a recent morning television program.

Robert Stocks and Paul Cavalero, both of South Main st., were shown with the new puppies being raised at the State Police barracks. These pups represent the third generation of dogs to be trained here and are descendants of the famous "Sadie" and "Sid" of former news stories.

Robert and Paul spend a great deal of time at the barracks cleaning pens, feeding the pups and laying trails through the woods for them to follow, as part of their training under the direction of Trooper Paul Conway.

Pike Hockey Season Finished Thursday

The Pike School formal hockey season came to a close last Thursday evening, when the team dropped a 3-2 decision to the Fay School sextet in Southborough.

The boys experienced a successful season by downing Brooks School and losing close decisions to Sacred Heart and Boxford.

Outstanding performers during the season include Richard Heiletz in the goal and Co-captains Ted Follansbee and Ab Rogers, who showed up well on the forward line. The year was a formative one and Coach Dibbins looks forward to the return of veteran underclassmen next year.

The results of the season were as follows: Pike 1, Sacred Heart 4; Pike 2, Brooks 1; Pike 3, Brooks 2; Pike 2, Fay 3; Pike 2, Boxford 4. (Pee Wee's).

Stillmans Toured United Nations

Mr. and Mrs. Allyn Stillman of Gould rd. enjoyed a week's holiday visiting relatives in New Jersey and Connecticut and sightseeing in New York City.

During a tour of the United Nations building, they were included in a group being photographed. The moving pictures taken there will be shown worldwide by the Special Services, to demonstrate graphically that Americans are interested enough in international events and problems to spend some of their leisure time learning more about the U.N.

Special Guest From Guatemala

MISS ELSA M. R. F.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Elm st. have a very special guest with them, Marina Ruano Franco of Guatemala.

When the pert, five-year-old, dark-haired, dark-eyed girl arrived in New York City, she was welcomed by her family. She was a guest for a whole year as an exchange student. At the time she was in New York, the Willands were residing in N.Y.

One of the requirements of the family is that they have a "heart" large enough to share with another person. She has a year's worth of experience, having three children of her own, find they have a heart to Elsa and that she will become a member of the family.

After completion of the program as an exchange student, she returned to Guatemala. She has been attending the Pharmacy of the University of San Carlos, Guatemala.

Just as in any close-knit family, she heard her father was to be married. She was surprised to be present. As a surprise for all, she brought a gift from Guatemala. She arrived just in time to attend the wedding of Mr. Willand to Francis Pe.

After the nuptials, Elsa and her family, to the wedding. While they were with the Willand family and her husband, James A. Calhoun, Elsa lives up to all the requirements necessary to be an exchange student. She has the ability, a pleasing personality to get along with, and maintains high grades.

Needless to say, Mr. Willand are very proud and are anxious to introduce their many new friends to the family.

Chuck Willand, who is a teacher at Central School, and his wife, produce her to his class.

Pups On Television With Police Pups

Pupils of South School were much interested to see two of their fellow students featured on a recent morning television program.

Robert Stocks and Paul Cavalaro, both of South Main st., were shown with the new puppies being raised at the State Police barracks. These pups represent the third generation of dogs to be trained here and are descendants of the famous "Sadie" and "Sid" of former news stories.

Robert and Paul spend a great deal of time at the barracks cleaning pens, feeding the pups and laying trails through the woods for them to follow, as part of their training under the direction of rooper Paul Conway.

Pike Hockey Season Finished Thursday

The Pike School formal hockey season came to a close last Thursday evening, when the team dropped a 3-2 decision to the Fay School sextet in Southborough.

The boys experienced a successful season by downing Brooks School and losing close decisions to Sacred Heart and Boxford.

Outstanding performers during the season include Richard Heffetz in the goal and Co-captains Ted Hollansbee and Ab Rogers, who showed up well on the forward line. The year was a formative one and Coach Dibbins looks forward to the return of veteran underclassmen next year.

The results of the season were as follows: Pike 1, Sacred Heart 4; Pike 2, Brooks 1; Pike 3, Brooks 2; Pike 2, Fay 3; Pike 2, Boxford (Pee Wee's).

Stillmans Toured United Nations

Mr. and Mrs. Allyn Stillman of Andover rd., enjoyed a week's holiday visiting relatives in New Jersey and Connecticut and sightseeing in New York City.

During a tour of the United Nations building, they were included in a group being photographed. The moving pictures taken there will be shown worldwide by the Special Services, to demonstrate graphically that Americans are interested enough in international events and programs to spend some of their leisure time learning more about the U.N.

MISS ELSA M. R. FRANCO

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Willand of Elm st., have a very special guest staying with them, Miss Elsa Marina Ruano Franco of Guatemala City, Guatemala.

When the pert, five foot four, dark-haired, dark-eyed girl arrived in New York City two years ago, the Willands were there to meet her. She was to be their guest for a whole year as a foreign exchange student. At the time, the Willands were residing in Fonda, N.Y.

One of the requirements for a host family is that they must "have a heart" large enough to share a portion with another child from another land for a year. The Willands, who have three children of their own, find they have given their heart to Elsa and that she has really become a member of the family.

After completion of the year's program as an exchange student, Elsa returned to Guatemala where she has been attending the College of Pharmacy of the University of San Carlos, Guatemala City.

Just as in any close-knit family, when she heard her "sister", Nancy, was to be married she wanted to be present. As a wonderful surprise for all, she travelled by plane from Guatemala and arrived just in time to attend the recent wedding of Miss Nancy Willand to Francis Peter Dodge. After the nuptials, Elsa returned to Fonda, N. Y., to renew old friendships. While there, she lived with the Willand's daughter, Emily and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Calhoun.

Elsa lives up to all the requirements necessary to be a foreign exchange student. She has scholastic ability, a pleasing personality, ability to get along with others, is active in extra-curricular activities and maintains high grades. Needless to say, Mr. and Mrs. Willand are very proud of Elsa and are anxious to introduce her to many new friends in Andover. Chuck Willand, who is a sixth grader at Central School, is equally proud of Elsa and plans to introduce her to his classmates at school.

EDITORIAL THOUGHTS

Town Meeting Said "No"

The Selectmen's unanimous vote Monday night to appoint a committee to study the town manager charter was a bit of a surprise — and must be greeted with mixed feelings.

The Townsman suggested this action, prior to town meeting, in the belief that there can be improvements in the charter, based on the experience we have had with it to date.

A motion was made at town meeting, to have a study committee appointed, to require public hearings, and to make recommendations to town meeting next year. This was defeated by a substantial margin, on a rising vote. The only member of the Board of Selectmen to respond in the affirmative was Paul Cronin.

Now we find ourselves in the position of applauding the study, while not entirely approving of the action by the Selectmen, in the face of direct voter disapproval at town meeting.

It has become apparent that some individuals voted against the study motion at the annual meeting because they believed there was an anti-town manager motive behind it. Despite any implications read into the motion by individuals, the voters did act in the negative.

Now the Selectmen have reversed that decision.

We hope that the study will be fairly carried out; to gain this end, it is vital that persons be appointed to the committee who do not have any political axes to grind. The Selectmen should use great caution, and apply much good judgment, in selecting the members of the study group.

Ask Questions

The importance attached to asking many, many questions about streets, septic tanks and connected data, when buying a house, is being emphasized by the plight of residents, whose homes are on unaccepted streets.

The question arose Monday night at the Selectmen's meeting with apparently opposing philosophies being expressed — the town should help its taxpayers whose streets are unaccepted through no fault of their own, who even believed that the streets were accepted when they purchased their homes; and, to the contrary, the town owes nothing to these people, in that they should have inquired about all these matters, prior to buying.

Whatever the town does, the unhappy situation some taxpayers find themselves in stresses the importance of asking every conceivable question about an area, before purchasing property.

An enlightened home-buyer can not, later, claim ignorance.

In the present cases, there are far too many persons who have bought houses without knowing all the details of their new neighborhood. They then register disappointment when streets are not repaired, when the town does not move with speed to help them out. It's heartless and pointless to blame the residents — but their situation should serve as a warning to others, who have not yet purchased their homes.

Still A Good Idea

Once again the suggestion has been made to convert the front of the town hall — now four parking spaces — with a green area.

The Garden Club, we understand, has agreed to handle the flower arrangements if the plot is converted to this use.

It also has been suggested that the flag pole be set in the center of the area, as is done in many places. One special advantage of this step is the possibility of lowering the pole for painting, plus fewer problems in restringing the pole when needed.

We're completely in accord with this effort; the front of the town building can certainly stand some beautifying. The spaces for four cars will not be missed too much — there is such a shortage of parking in the business area that four spaces is inconsequential by comparison.

A man may be his own worst enemy and still try to shift the blame to others.

Many a self-made man reached the top only after his wife revised the specifications.

Down the Years with The Townsman

75 Years Ago — March, 1888

Selectman Smith is circulating a paper for subscriptions to a fund for payment to a regular night watchman, to patrol the streets in the center of the town from 8 p.m. to 5 a.m. This is a capital movement, and we hope there will be no failure to recognize it. The present senior class at Pynchard is to present to the library of the school, a handsome oak book-case, partly filled with valuable books. The gift is the fruit of the recent fair, and will be a pleasant remembrance of the class. Hardy and Cole are making the case.

There are some fears of the wall at Hussey's Pond giving way on account of the ice that has broken up, and the high water.

Work has been commenced at the engine house preparatory to the arrival of the new horses for the steamer and road work.

Elmer H. Shattuck has moved into his new house on Pynchard ave., just completed for him by A. C. Richardson.

Michael Kelley has gone into the vegetable business.

50 Years Ago — March, 1913

Donald Laurie, who fell from the third story of Bartlett Hall a week ago, is progressing favorably. He sustained a broken bone in one foot.

Mr. and Mrs. James J. Abbott of Central st. are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Edward Chandler of Brooklyn, N. Y.

A gramophone concert was given Wednesday evening at the Pynchard School on the "Columbia" machine recently purchased for use in the schools. Miss Mitchell, instructor in music, gave a few introductory remarks before each record was played and the evening was much enjoyed by all. It is planned to give several of these concerts, the proceeds to go towards payments for the machine.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Kyte of Providence, R. I., spent Sunday in town.

25 Years Ago — March, 1938

Town Treasurer Thaxter Egan has received a check for $25,000 about half of the expected state reimbursement to the town from income taxes. It is about $5,000 higher than the check received at this time a year ago, giving rise to the belief that income from this source will be higher than the Finance Committee expected.

Next Friday night, the annual Senior play — this year, Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night" — will be presented in Memorial Auditorium.

The truck re-routing bill went down to defeat in the Senate this week. If it had been approved, the bill would have given the state DPW power to re-route trucks around towns, specially through where a suitable and easy by-pass exists. An effort to have the legislation apply only to Andover also failed in the Senate. A Senatorial committee had recommended the bill for approval, but Sen. Frank Babcock ran into opposition from trucking interests when the bill came up for debate.

10 Years Ago — March, 1953

In special session Tuesday night, the School Committee voted to postpone consideration of teaching oral French in the grades, until the December meeting when the bill for approval, but Sen. Frank Babcock ran into opposition from trucking interests when the bill came up for debate.

The Board of Appeals has decided to permit for a motel at the northwest corner of Prospect rd. and the By-Pass. The Board must give unanimous approval to a petition, or it is denied. In this case, the vote was 2-1 in favor of the request.

The School Committee, in its annual report, anticipates concerted action towards buying land for a new high school and the construction of the school. It suggests that the present Pynchard High, and the Junior High buildings, probably will be turned over to Junior High use entirely.

Between last Friday and Monday night, over 4 1/2 inches of rain fell here. There was damage, however, except for wet cellars.

A large number of greeters and guides from St. Augustine's Parish will be on hand to welcome visitors and conduct them around the Church, Baptistry and Sacristy, giving explanations and answering questions.

This Open House has been organized by the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine and is a goodwill gesture to friends, Catholic and non-Catholic alike, to promote good relations in the spirit of Christian charity, in keeping with the wishes of Pope John XXIII. Rev. Fr. Smith takes this opportunity of inviting all to attend. Refreshments will be served in Good Counsel Hall after the tour of the Church.

Even as the manager was literally scratching his head in some perplexity, one prominent resident suggested privately this week that the whole two percent reduction might be illegal. He suggested that town meeting has no power to delegate its authority, as was done in letting the manager determine where the decrease will be pinpointed.

Lougee has traveled extensively in Alaska and will show all-colored movies of the country and of the big game which abounds in the Alaskan wilderness including walrus, bear and caribou. This is an exceptional opportunity for the arm-chair travelers and arm-chair big game hunters to become better acquainted with our new state.

Which HURTS You Most?

Most of us have a sensitive pocketbook nerve. Would it hurt you any less to lose $10,000 in a damage suit that went against you than it would have to pay out that much to repair the damages of a fire? We doubt it. That's why we think you should investigate a Home-owners policy that protects you against most any kind of loss and saves you money, too.

ABOUT CHINA

At the regular meeting of Girl
Scout Troop 94 of the Sanborn
School, held last Tuesday, Austen
Anderson proprietor of a local gift shop, brought a message on crystal were most enthusiastic and also learned many timely suggestions which will prove of help to them in the future.

It is understood that the actual preparation of the master zoning map has not yet been authorized.

John Reading Is Eagle Scout

John W. Reading, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Reading, 161 Andover st., received his Eagle Scout award, during a Court of Honor ceremony in Newton.

John, a student at Rivers Country Day School in Weston, received the award at the Church of the Redeemer, Chestnut Hill. It was presented on the 17th anniversary of his father's death, aboard a B26, during World War II.

John has taken final exams for the National Merit Scholarship Foundation, and is editor of his school's quarterly magazine, The Rivers Current.

Will Thank Study Committee

The committee which spent more than six months studying new municipal buildings will be officially "thanked" by the Selectmen.

And the Board has agreed that it should express its collective regret that time was not given to the committee at town meeting, for a presentation of its report.

Selectman William Stewart expressed the feeling of the Board, when he noted that the article covering municipal buildings was withdrawn too quickly — in effect shutting off the committee from completing its job.

Arthur Peatman served as chairman of the Committee and there were preliminary plans available for all three town structures. There was, however, no discussion of the plans at all, during town meeting, as voters and officials rapidly disposed of all articles connected with Urban Renewal.
